Definition of Energy Medicine
Energy Medicine is holistic integrative therapy intended to clear, balance and energize the human energy system in order to facilitate physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual self-healing.

The trained practitioner uses various energy medicine techniques with heart-centered intention. Energy medicine is intended to complement and not replace any prescribed medical care. Practitioners do not diagnose conditions or prescribe treatment.

Vicki Grabicki is not a Mental Health Counselor. Her modality is complimentary to qualified professional mental or medical treatment.

Session Information
Remote energy medicine services involve the use of secure interactive videoconferencing devices and equipment that enable the practitioner to deliver services to the client virtually when they are located at different sites.

Sessions are 90 minutes long.

The fee per session is $ 65
Fees are waived in Pro Bono case studies

Vicki Grabicki is not a provider for any insurance carrier and upon request will provide an invoice that the client may submit.

1. I understand that the same standard of care applies to a remote session as applies to an in-person visit.
2. I understand that the laws that protect the privacy and confidentiality of personal information apply to remote sessions.
3. I understand that I will not be physically in the same room as the practitioner. I will be notified of this, and my consent obtained for anyone other than the practitioner to be present or work with me.

4. Risks to Confidentiality: I understand that as remote sessions take place outside of the practitioner's office, there is potential for other people to overhear conversations if I am not in a private place during the session. The practitioner will take reasonable steps to ensure privacy. It is my responsibility to find a private place for the session where I will not be interrupted. I also understand that it is my responsibility to protect the privacy of our session on the device being used.
5. Technology Issues: I understand that there are potential risks to using technology, including service interruptions, interception, and technical difficulties. For example, technology may stop working during a session, other people might be able to get access to our private conversations, or stored data could be accessed by unauthorized people or companies. If it is determined that the video conferencing equipment or connection is not adequate, I understand that either the practitioner or I may discontinue the remote session and make other arrangements to complete the session.

Appointment Cancellation Policy
I agree to give a 24-hour notice if it is necessary for me to cancel an appointment. My practitioner reserves the right to charge me for the session if sufficient notice is not given.
Pro Bono not applicable.

Confidentiality *
All client information and records are treated in a confidential manner and no information will be released to anyone without my prior written consent, except in situations governed by law, life saving measures, or another practitioner who I am referred to (only with my permission.)*

* If Vicki Grabicki asks to refer you to, or to consult with another practitioner, she will likely be discussing aspects of your sessions that she feels are important to give the other practitioner some direction to focus on to help your well being move forward. You may deny that permission at that time, in writing, or email notification at anytime. The practitioner may be a Medical Professional, another Body / Belief Code Practitioner or a Discoverhealing Support Instructor.
